

COLLABORATIVE APPROACH IN EDUCATION AND HEALTH SERVICES : AN OVERVIEW OF PSYCHOLOGY

By
Muhammad Tamar

-
- Our business is taking care of people, not things;
 - Our business involves continuum of the person's life;
 - Our business is 24– hours/365 day operation;
 - Our business is never ends, it just repeat itself; and
 - Our business skills are knowledge and skill based
-

Dr. Suzette Cardin, RN,DNSc,
FAAN

The Focus of Discussion

How to interpret the work as a health service

How a 'careers' in view humans.

Professional responsibility in health care

Work 'collaboratively as a health service

Mental health for the health service

How to "educate" collaborative health care p

How to interpret the work as a health services?

- What does work mean to you

- Work should serve as a 'social worship'

- Work should be happy

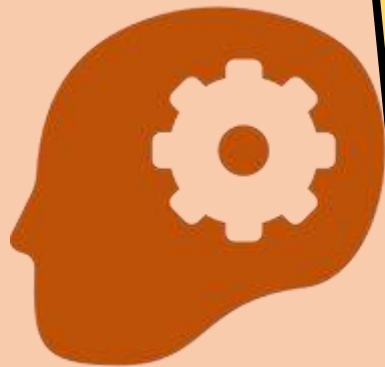

- When the morbidly unhappy in his job will have burn out and stress.

- Only for happy people can transmit happiness for others

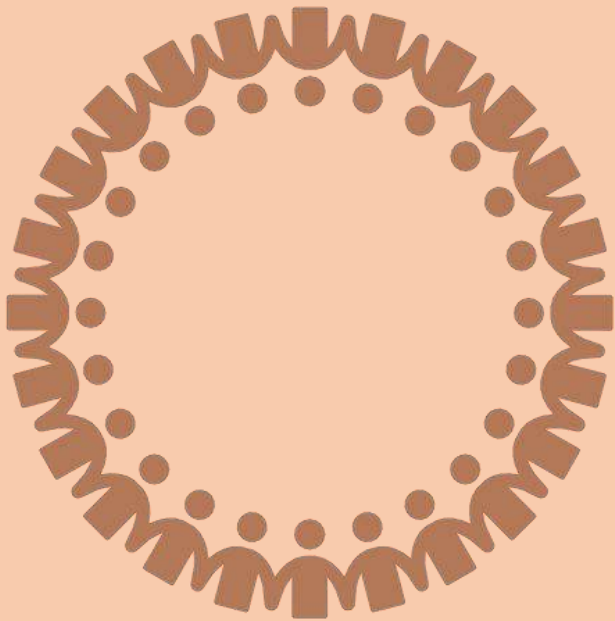

How the perspective of 'services' health in view of 'Man'?

- Bio-psychosocial approach in looking at sick and healthy open horizons to think that there are a number of determinants that influence therein.
Intrinsic much more important and fundamental to interpret it means to be 'human', why there should be 'sick and healthy'?
- Man is a blend of soul and body, if one aspect in which pain affects a person's health status.

Humanistic Perspective

- The merging and separation of soul and body in the human body that are conceived as a 'live'
- The basic question why should unite to split up?
- Health sector focus on the human life span.
- In human life there is the existence of "Creator"
- In serving the ailing humanity can mean serving "the Creator"
- Smile in serving, the "Creator" will smileThat's see who can make you happy.

Professional Responsibilities in the Health Service.

- Each profession has certain professional responsibilities.

- Competency-based professional services in certain professions (each profession has a standard core professional competency) and the code of professional conduct.

- Related to responsibility and accountability (responsibility and accountability) as a professional. Professionalism is measured from the ability to provide a satisfactory service to its clients regardless of 'wages' is given.

Collaborative work in Health Services

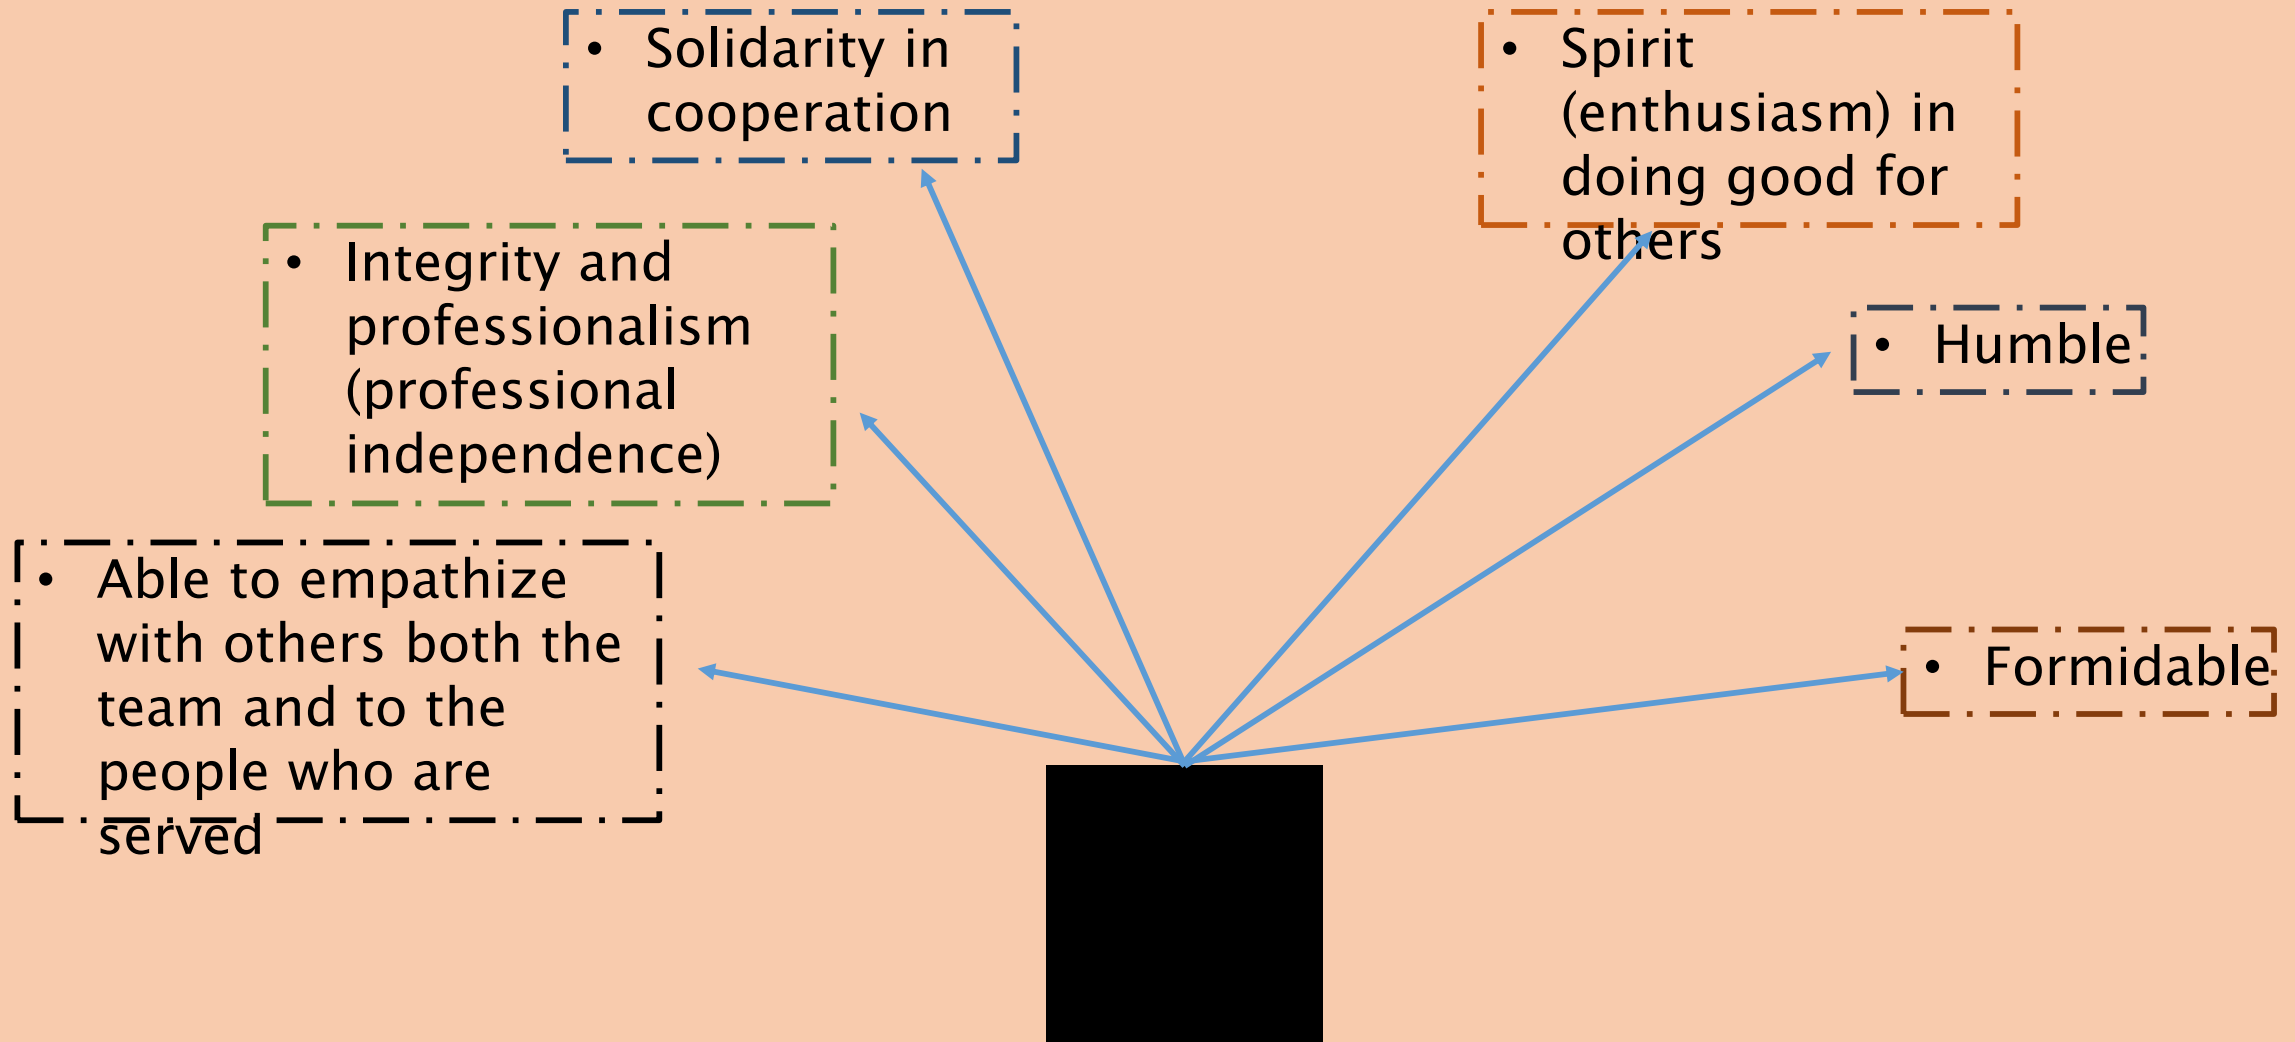

- collaboration means working systemically in a coherence of integration of the various parties to solve the problems associated with the responsibilities of each.

- The people involved should be able to release 'structural role' that is inherent in each one then 'merge' the task to be solved together with full

Each individual involved should be in the same frequency

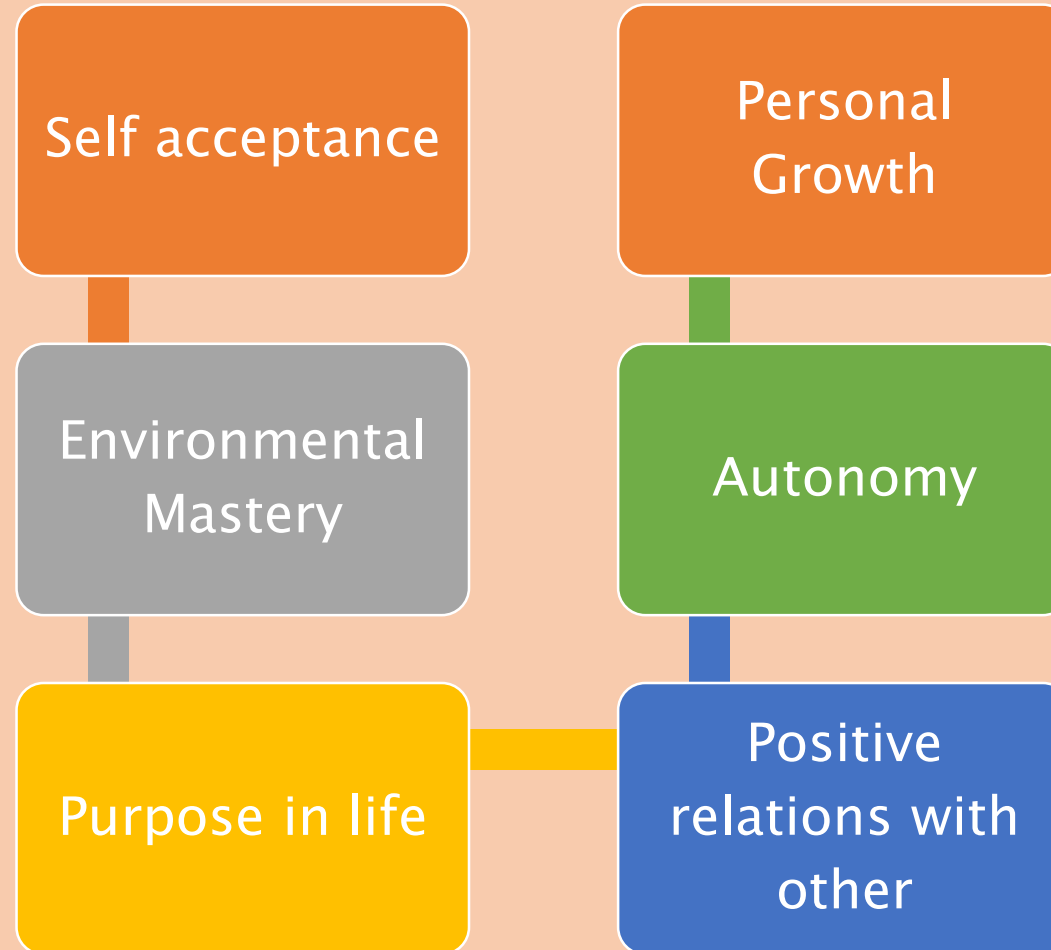

Basic Skill to Collaborate

5 Pillars of Collaboration

Importance of Mental Health for Health Care Officers

How to educate health care workers collaboratively?

A number of alternative bids from psychological perspective as follows

"How to create a climate conducive to networking and learning system that is both inter-professional collaborative education".

A number of alternative bids from psychological perspective as follows :

1. Specify the same standpoint about the vision of humanity that we are building and lived together.
2. Create supportive systems and networks among health-related professions.
3. Determine the level of professional quality unidirectional and unvarying respectively related health professions.
4. Climate wake supporting mutual cooperation based on their respective professions in the spectrum and the same horizon.
5. Create a roadmap that is expected to map collaborative learning
6. Determine the level of involvement between teaching profession in each health profession.

The need for base competency standards are built together in a learning system in the health professions

- How to teach them about self-reliance, responsibility and accountability in their respective professions.
- How to teach them empathy, it is not only knowledge but also the whole idea, feeling, and psychomotor shows 'body language' as people who empathize.
- How to teach them to be humble (humble) in words and deeds.
- How to teach them to be able to respect each other, support each other, strengthen each other in our team.
- How to teach them to work cultured sincere, attentive (care), patient, resilient, and remains enthusiastic.

How Psychology Study Program form the Attitude of Professionalism Students

Psychology Study programs provide 6 structured lecture, namely:

- Andragogy
- Mental health
- Moral intelligence
- Creativity and Entrepreneurship
- System approach
- The Code of Professional Psychology

